

Shoalhaven City Arts Centre exhibitions thrice as nice | Photos

By LEA HAWKINS

Dec. 18, 2014, 9 a.m.

• Max Dingle who curated the exhibition with Kylie and Quentin De Havilland from Wollongong.

THREE exhibitions were launched at the Shoalhaven City Arts Centre and Regional Gallery over the weekend.

In the East Gallery, the Arts at the Annexe drawing class exhibition launched featuring the works of students instructed by Linda Dening.

It will run until February 21.

In the Main, Foyer and Access Galleries, Landscapes and Interiors by Elisabeth Cummings was launched.

Her works were inspired by still life and the landscape and will be on show until February 23.

Shifting Shadows, Shifting Sands launched in the East Gallery and is a collection of works by Maryanne Wick and Szilvia Gyorgy.

Their joint effort combines paintings, ceramics, drawing and collage, using traditional and natural materials.

It will be on display until January 17.